Joseph Haynesworth Earle.

Senator Joseph H. Earle died at his home in Greenville last Tuesday afternoon. The telegraphic reports from Greenville for several weeks had been far from encouraging, and while the end was not altogether unexpected, still it caused quite a shock to his friends throughout the entire State.

Senator Earle had been in the United States senate a little less than three months, but in that short time he had made himself felt in that body. Truly it has been said that South Carolina had much to expect from him. As a private citizen, as a representative, as State senator, as attorney-general he had always preserved a dignified bearing, and had always acquitted himself with honor; hence, as a representative of this State in the upper branch of the congress of the United States the people of South Carolina expected much of him. He promised to meet all expectations, too, and his untimely demise was a sad and irreparable calamity to the State.

A more high-toned gentleman, a more thorough scholar on the vital questions of the day, a nobler, purer man than Joseph H. Earle cannot be found within the border of South Carolina. His victory over governor Evans last summer was more of a personal victory than that of a political nature. Nothing impure could be charged up against Mr. Earle, and no one dared to make false charges, knowing full well that they could and would be easily refuted. In his death the State loses one of the most patriotic sons she has ever given birth to, and one whose loss will be felt for years to come.

Of course there is much speculation as to who senator Earle's successor will be. At this writing (Monday afternoon) no appointment has been made. In governor Ellerbe, and in him alone rests the power to appoint a senator. But even he can only name a man to serve during the time intervening between now and the meeting of the general assembly next January, when that body is required to elect a man for the full five remaining years of the late senator's term. Prominent among the candidates spoken of for the place is congressman McLaurin, Mr. W. D. Evans, Col. D. K. Norris, ex-senator Irby, ex-secretary of State Tindall and others. Of course mention of these men is all purely speculation, as governor Ellerbe has given out no intimation as to who he will appoint. Ex governor Evans has said that he will be a candidate before the general assembly next January, regardless of who else is before it.

It has been suggested that the Democratic State executive committee have a primary held to nominate a senator to be voted for by the legislature. This might be well enough, but would the members of that body be in any way bound to support such a nominee? In our opinion, no. They have carried out their promise to vote for the nominee of the primary at which they themselves were selected, and will in no way be pledged to vote for the nominee of any other primary. Such an election could only suggest a candidate, but there would be no warranty of his election by the legislature.

The State Press Association met in Newberry, at its annual gathering, last Tuesday. There are men present from every section of the State and the "pencil-pushers" of every sect and creed are in close communion. Religious and political views are left at home, and every one is the brother and fellow-scribe of every other editor, and all work together for the good of the newspaper fraternity of the State.

The Association this year will hear addresses from the Rev. A. J. S. Thomas, of the Baptist Courier; R. T. Jays, Esq., of the Keowee Courier, Walhalla; Mr. Louis Appelt, of the Manning Times; Hon. Patrick Walsh, of the Augusta, Ga., Chronicle; Col. R. A. Thonpron, of the Walhalla Courier; Maj. J. C. Garlington, of the Spartanburg Herald; Gen. J. L. Stoppelbein, of the Summerville News; W. W. Ball, Esq., of the Greenville News, and several others. The pleasures of the meeting will constitute, among other things, a banquet by the citizens of Newberry, carriage drives by the citizens, banquet tendered by Mr. J. T. Harris, Proprietor of Harris Springs, at the Springs, banquet at the Thornwell Orphanage by the ladies of Clinton, etc., etc. These meetings are always a source of great pleasure to the poor, careworn editors, and are looked forward to for a year in advance.

Now that Coosaw, the agricultural hall case, the railroad tax cases and several other litigations have "had their day," and the dispensary is on its last legs, after standing law-suits from its very inception, we wonder what will be the next thing for the newspapers to fill column after column with? Will governor Ellerbe suffer the sensational columns of our State dailies, and the editorial columns of the county weeklies to be without a State lawsuit of great importance to the tax-payers to "harp on?" Surely something will "turn up" before the Vandercok case is decided!

It is now Greater New York. When Governor Black signed the charter, the second city of the world sprang into being. The official existence of this giant city will begin January 1, 1898. The first mayor will be elected some time in next November, with a salary of $15,000. Only five States in the Union have greater population than these cities now combined and creating Greater New York—the population being 3,200,000. It might be well to state that under the new charter, the cities of New York, Brooklyn, Queens, Richmond and Westchester, are combined into one, forming the new and second in size city of the world. The assessed valuation of the Greater New York is $2,746,882,943, the city is 35 miles long and 19 miles wide.

Are the older members of the Senate content to leave it to Senator Tillman to move an investigation into facts and allegations that seriously compromise the honor of that body? Do they imagine that the old Sugar Trust scandal can be "hushed up" when a new and greater scandal is impending? The country hears a great deal about the "courtesy of the Senate." Is it not high time to hear something about his honor?—New York World.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with urine and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys. When urine stains linen it is positive evidence of kidney trouble. Too frequent desire to urinate or pain in the back, is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

WHAT TO DO.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy fulfills every wish in relieving pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to get up many times during the night to urinate. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggist, price fifty cents and one dollar. You may have a sample bottle and pamphlet both sent free by mail. Mention The County Record and send your address to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. The proprietors of this paper guarantee the genuine ness of this offer.

Johnson's Chill and Fever Tonic is a ONE-DAY Cure. It cures the most stubborn case of Fever in 24 Hours.

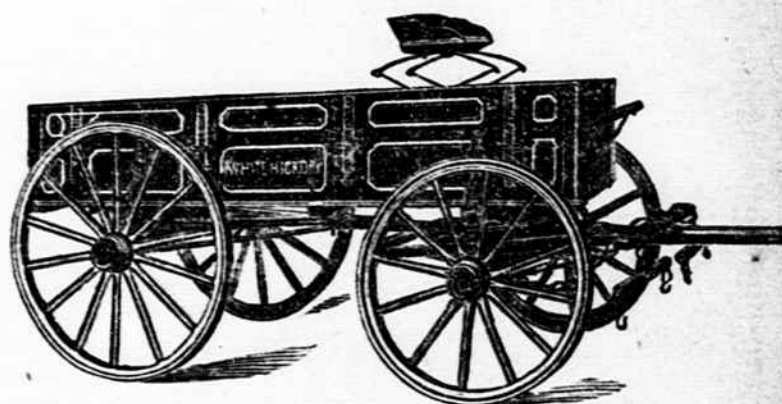

A county correspondent of the Greenville News gets off a one as follows: "The cool nights are against the little cotton, we are told. It can't grow to do any good until the nights get warm enough to sleep without a blanket. I have heard of people nearly freezing themselves trying to sleep without cover in, order to give their cotton a chance to grow."
